To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Jeff Wilshaw, who I've known for several years and have had the opportunity to serve alongside voluntarily at our local church, as well as work directly with on a professional level. Since I've known Jeff, he has proven himself to be a thorough and understanding person, who is consistently looking to be of support to those around him. When we have been in situations during volunteer events where additional help is needed, Jeff is always willing to jump in and provide both his time and expertise to fill much needed gaps.

Recently, on a professional level, I had just gone through a several million dollar expansion at my school, which included the addition of six new classrooms. Even before the addition, we had a PA system that was only minimally reliable, and, with our new expansion, it was clear that we needed a complete overhaul. Having known Jeff for many years, I knew he would be the best person to reach out to for advice in getting this project completed. Jeff was quick to communicate, and from start to finish, went above and beyond to make sure the job was completed well beyond our expectations. Throughout this project, Jeff willingly sought out and recommended ideas that would have never crossed my mind, and was entirely thorough in his approach to making sure that our needs were met not just for our immediate concerns, but well into the future.

Having the opportunity to know Jeff on both a personal and professional level, I can, without hesitation, recommend him for consideration as he pursues these next steps in his career. Jeff is dependable and supportive as a friend, and has been shown to exceed expectations on a professional level. I'm confident that he will continue to bring those same qualities with him to your organization should you choose to move forward.

Please don't hesitate to reach out to me directly should you need additional information.

Thank you,
